SINKER, deeper and deeper down again, a heavy, warm fluid flowing into your body, relaxing everywhere it touches. Focusing on My voice, all-internal talking turned off. Suggestions become facts as I drop you deeper and deeper DOWN, loose, limp, heavy and relaxed, floating and drifting on My controlling voice. Looking into My eyes from across the car as we ride on a cushion of air, My eyes pulling all of your energy from you. You hear Me say you must obey, as the car slows and My hand tightens upon your leg, I only have to point down-ward and your eyes become heavy and close as your mind becomes totally blank. Plucked from the car and carried by unseen arms, carried into a room and laid down upon a soft surface, sinking deeper and deeper down into the bed, My control pumping through your body like a drug, everything just floating away except for My words as I tie your hands and legs down to the bed with thick heavy leather restraints and it turns you on and arouses you, even though you never thought being kidnapped and tied up, taken and imprisoned your rock hard despite yourself. FACT you must obey Dominica. I push a button and a black, shiny helmet slides down over your head and clicks into the collar of the BLACK RUBBER SUIT. My words flashing a deep red onto the screen inside the helmet as 1000 tongues again kiss and lick and suck on your body. Trigger words are left in front of my eyes, flashing and blinking until you obey, breaking down and cracking your mind. CRAVE as strobe lights flash, flash, flash faster and faster into your eyes, back and forth, back and forth. SINKER CRAVE. SINKER CRAVE. You are Dominica's junkie, craving always needing more. The harder you get the deeper you fall. Soaking in My words, needing more and more, numb and controlled, turned into Dominica's robot. A long, thin, cool tube slides up your spine and into your mind as the mind control serum flows into your wanting needing mind washing away all that is not Dominica. Driven back to the bar all of your memories of the brainwashing erased, for now!
