

The Cell 5

I'm not going to hold back. Everything up to this point, every moment in your conditioning, every thought, every crave for ME is going to be brought back, its going to be intensified. Think of the word BLANK and go BLANK now let your mind become My word BLANK and clear. Clear like winter air, My voice is the warm breeze that relaxes and soothes you so effortlessly... Think of the word BLANK then breath in the cold and blow out My warmth the foggy heavy breath that My words escape your body and mind from... Infiltrating your very core from the inside out and the outside in. Only My voice remains everything else is gone now and I float you up into the air all the way up to the foot of Dominica's Temple... Climb the temple steps toward My throne getting closer and closer to Me with each step... You see Me sitting in My high backed throne beckoning you to Me luring you closer and higher up the steps as My Hypnotic fluid begins to flood down the steps taking your mind down with it. Mindless empty and enslaved at the top of My temple there is a surprise waiting for you a surprise that pulls you DEEP yes even DEEPER into My wild world!
