

Will o the Wisp

Lost without Me. Yes, you are so lost without Me. Because your thoughts are tangled, like a wild forest, in the dark of a quiet moonless night. I am the light that guides you. I am the light that shows you the path. The way to your innermost being. The core of what is you. You have been there before. But now you have lost your way. You are so confused. Because so many other things call for your attention. They do not matter I wipe them all away. I will guide you, to what really matters. To My needs, My desires... Pushing aside all fears... pushing aside all cares... My brilliant hypnotic light guides you deeper and deeper down into the wisp... Follow My light, and find the delight... Deep in your brain, day and night. The soft hypnotic lull draws you deeper down into such a haze you cant help but stumble in a deeply hypnotized daze. I will guide you My darling cummm to Me now...
