

How to Make

1. Download This PDF and get it printed off at a print shop near by! we'd print it for you but we have hooves...
2. Have the cards printed in heavy white cardstock (like Cards against Humanity, we'd also recommend 80-pound or higher). This gives them that good ol' official feeling that ponies approve of!
3. Optionally You can have them print the card backs on the card fronts! This gives them that official look!
4. Cut them up! Cut em up good with one of them there pairs of scissors!
5. Wrap em up nice using the container of your choice!

Basic Rules

Each player starts the game with ten red cards. Each deck is then shuffled and 5 green cards are placed on the playing field for players to see. The person who most recently used the word "pony" becomes the Alicorn and must start by drawing a green card from one of the five on the field.

The Alicorn must then read the card aloud to the other players, who then must answer the prompt on the green card by passing the required amount of red cards, face down to the Alicorn.

The Alicorn must then re-read the green card before sharing each red card or pairing of red cards aloud to the group. Then, the Alicorn must then select which answer was the best. The person who answered with the winning choice, now becomes the alicorn.

Before play begins again, each player must draw red cards until they are at ten, then they must pass the deck to the player on their right. There should greencards on the field before play begins again.

House Rules

Don't like playing with the regular rules? Try mixing them up by choosing some rules here...Or make your own!

The Crown

The Alicorn must wear a crown at all times during their turn. If the crown falls off at any point then during the Alicorn's turn, the player loses one green card and play continues. At the beginning of each turn the new alicorn must yell the phrase "Bow to your Alicorn Princess!"

Fair Exchange

For one green card, players may return up to 3 red cards to the deck and draw the same amount of cards.

The Sitcom

At the end of every round, the alicorn must tell a short story while mixing the given cards. Funniest card gets the green card.

Pay your Taxes!

When there is a new alicorn princess, they can choose a word that will serve as a "Tax." Every time the word is mentioned, every player must pay one green card. The word "Pony" is not allow, we don't enforce slavery...we just have a card for it!
